“ We'll sister, you made it to that beautiful land we've heard about all of our lives! I can't imagine the smile on your face when you saw Jesus. Then our Mom, Dad and Big Sis were right behind Him! What a celebration it must have been!! You got sick so fast there just wasn't enough time to spend together and share stories and memories we each had, but I do cherish the times we were together. I'm so thankful God let me see you on Saturday before He called you home. You were able to sit up and talk with me even though you didn't feel good and I tried to get you to eat a little bit and you did....2 bites of a PBJ sandwich. Those are always good!! Those few hours will always be held close in my heart because that's the last time I got to hug you and tell you I love you. We shared a few hours but there never would have been enough time. I sure do miss you already, but I know I will meet you in Heaven some day. So y'all hold each other tight until I get there and we'll celebrate some more. I love you more times infinity!❤️❤️❤️ Love, Your Baby Sister

“ I loved Annette's smile first. She also would kiss you on your cheek. She was friendly, out-going , and caring. We became friends playing Canasta cards together. She would always say "it's just a game" whenever we lost. She will be missed! She was a follower and believer in God. For that I am consoled by her passing. She is in heaven now with her Savior.

Annette has been my friend for many years. We met through our OES affiliation. She was such a joy to be with. She was definitely beautiful inside and out. Sister Annette, I will miss you very much. That beautiful smile and that special voice. You will certainly make a beautiful Angel. Your battle is over and you won the ultimate prize, to see the face of Jesus. I look forward to seeing you again. Rest In Peace my dear friend, I will always love you.

My heart is heavy with the passing of a very dear friend. But I know you're in a better place -- that place not made with hands. Your faith and our knowledge you are with our Lord comforts us all. Annett became my sister friend through Eastern Star and what a friend! Her smile would light up a room; her warmth and friendliness made us all feel so very special. We shall meet again, my dear friend.
