“ To the family, I extend my sincere sympathy. I knew Greg here in Savannah for a little over two years. He was a pleasant guy in spite of his demons. I encouraged him to concentrate on the good things about himself and try and move forward. This was such a tragic end to his life, but find comfort in knowing that he has peace at last.

*Sincerely,

“ Greg, you were a great friend. I will miss you. I'll miss your laughter and your humor. You always hid your pain with your humor. I have the memories. I pray you're walking those golden streets with your Mama. She dearly loved you. You were different after she past. You were a very special and one of a kind person. Rest in peace, Gregory Davis. You would never tell me your middle name.
