“ I was fortunate enough to work side by side with Bonnie for several years at my father's Dry Cleaners -"College Cleaners" in Stockbridge, and during that time, we built a friendship that crossed generations. Though there were nearly 30 years apart in age, it never felt that way. Bonnie had a gift for storytelling—she could make you laugh until your sides hurt or bring a tear to your eye with the way she spoke about her life and her family. She had lived fully, and she shared those moments with such vivid detail and humor that it felt like you were right there with her. She would always make me laugh by telling stories about Big Jim, Jimmy, and Ricky. She loved all of her family dearly, and I'm thankful to have met them and spent time with them over the years.

Bonnie had a distinct laugh and a sharp wit that made every workday brighter. No matter how busy or stressful things got, she found a way to lighten the mood by sharing a memorable story that ended with laughter. I learned so much from her—not just about work, but about life, resilience, and the importance of laughter. Bonnie also loved movies. To this day, I can't watch Thelma and Louise, Pretty Woman, or National Lampoon's Vacation without thinking of her. Those films were some of her favorites, and just hearing the music or a quote from one of them brings her voice and laughter right back to me.

Losing Bonnie was heartbreaking, but I'm so grateful for the time we had. The memories, the stories, and all the laughter are still with me. She was more than a co-worker at the dry cleaners—she was a true friend, and I'll carry all the good memories with me until we meet again.
